Board to adopt budget

Public hearing on the final 1973-74 school budget will be held tonight, August 1, at 7 p.m. at the Campbell Union (elementary) School District board room, 155 N. Third Street.

The revised budget calls for a total district expenditure, excluding special assessment districts, of $12,756,636. The publication budget, adopted last month, called for expenditures of $11,919,766.

DROPPED

Estimates of general apportionment funds dropped some $161,974 to $3,407,566. Secured roll tax funds show a sharp rise from $4,392,464 to $4,840,276.

Under expenditures the final budget proposal shows no funds allocated for the summer recreation program. The program was discontinued this year due to budgetary problems. Funds for the program came from the Community Service override tax. Excess unappropriated levies in the amount of $164,484, are listed in the final budget under restricted reserve.

NEEDY

The Meals for the Needy program was reinstituted with some $11,192 allocated to feed students from low-income families. Last year the total was $9,323.

Travel and conference expenditures took a sharp climb with $16,050 listed in the budget proposal compared to $100 in the publication budget last month. Biggest increase was in "in-district car use" which went from $800 last year to a listed $8,050 for 1973-74. Dropped from the budget was conference registration fees.

Other cuts were in field trip expense; $24,219 was budgeted last year, compared to $11,912 for the 1973-74 school year. Athletic trip expense, $4,000 last year, shows no allocation for this year.

In other business trustees will:

Hear a proposal recommending that the board accept the responsibility for maintenance of the Mini Parks at Forest Hill, Capri, Dover, Rosemary, Hazelwood and Rolling Hills Schools.

RECOMMENDED BY PLANNING COMMISSION

Council studies changes in city's traffic circulation plan

Campbell's traffic circulation plan, approved by the Planning Commission, went under the scrutiny of the City Council on Monday in a joint study session.

In attendance also were representatives of the other city commissions and members of the city staff.

The circulation element of the general plan was approved in 1968.

The Planning Commission has recommended 11 basic changes in the plan (numbered on the map) which were presented on Monday night.

The recommended changes:

1. East Campbell Avenue--changed from a "collector" street to "local" or residential.
2. Interchange designation, changed from specific to a generalized designation.
3. Campbell Ave.-Highway 17 intersection--changed from interchange to grade separation.
4. McKeon Subdivision (Hamilton Downs) -- New streets added.
5. Expressway interchanges --All now shown as grade separations.
6. Llewellyn Ave.--To be extended north of Campbell Ave. to intersect with Latimer Ave.
7. Dura-Style Homes (Rancho del Prado)--New street pattern.
8. Pollard Road--Change from "collector" street to "major" street (west of intersection at Abbott Ave.)
9. Pollard Road at Harriet (Abbott)--Recommended that Harriet terminate at Pollard rather than extend to the proposed new freeway.
10. Dell Avenue--Minor redesign to allow Dell to intersect with Winchester.

AT STUDY SESSION

Businessmen protest plan

Three prominent Campbell businessmen took the microphone Monday night at the joint study session of the Planning Commission and City Council to condemn the proposed traffic diversion plan for East Campbell Avenue between Bascom and Leigh.

Holly Vollenweider, local realtor; Ira Kirkorian, developer and Harry Alter, owner of the Yardstick, vigorously opposed the proposed plan developed by the public works department under Bill Wren.

The plan would eliminate East Campbell Avenue traffic crossing Bascom and also would limit the South Bascom intersection of El Solyo, Shady Dale and Arroyo Seco to right turns only.

The three businessmen claimed that the plan would hurt the businesses in the area.

The East Campbell Avenue diversion plan has the approval of both the county and the city. The objective is to eliminate some of the heavy commuting traffic on East Campbell Avenue especially.

According to Wren, final details of the plan have not been completed yet and it will not go before the City Council until August 13.

However, the three businessmen embarked on their protests Monday night at the study session during the discussion over whether East Campbell Avenue should be changed from a "collector" street to a "local" street.

Other proposed changes in the city's traffic circulation plan that created interest among the commissioners and councilmen included re-classifying the Highway 17-Campbell Avenue as a grade separation (which it is) instead of an interchange (which it might be someday) and how Pollard Road should be classified in the circulation plan.

ON FINANCING---TIMING

Downtown loop system to get vital airing Tuesday

What could be the most crucial test in the five years that the downtown loop plan has been part of the city's development program, may take place next Tuesday, August 7, at 7:30 p.m. in the council chambers.

In 1968, the city adopted the concept of the loop system (parallel streets on both sides of Campbell Avenue, from the railroad to Third Street). Subsequently the plan lines for both loop streets were adopted. Actually a one-block strip of the north loop adjacent to the city hall already has been constructed.

At next Tuesday's meeting members of the Downtown Revitalization Committee, in existence since 1961, and long advocates of the "loops"; property owners in the downtown area; members of all the city commissions and other interested citizens have been urged to attend.

Although the loop system has been approved since 1968, no definite commitment has been made as to what means should be used to finance the project, which is expected to cost more than $1 million, exclusive of an interchange at Highway 17.

Involved in the overall financial picture is the part the property owners in the downtown area are to play in the development. Indirectly tied to the project is a proposed downtown parking off-street parking district.

Gasoline tax funds now totalling almost $250,000 annually can be used for the project, city officials explain. Such funds can only be used for major street improvements and not for residential streets.

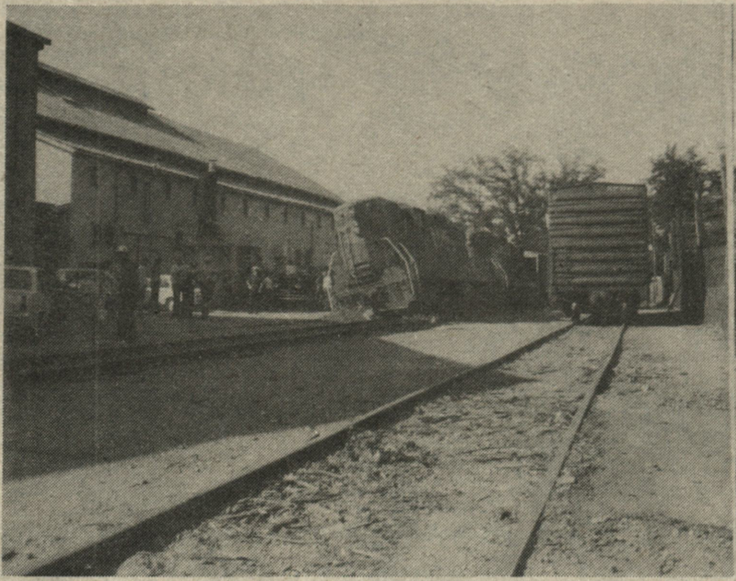
Federal revenue-sharing funds, which are expected to reach $400,000 by the end of the fiscal year, can also be used with other state and federal funds.

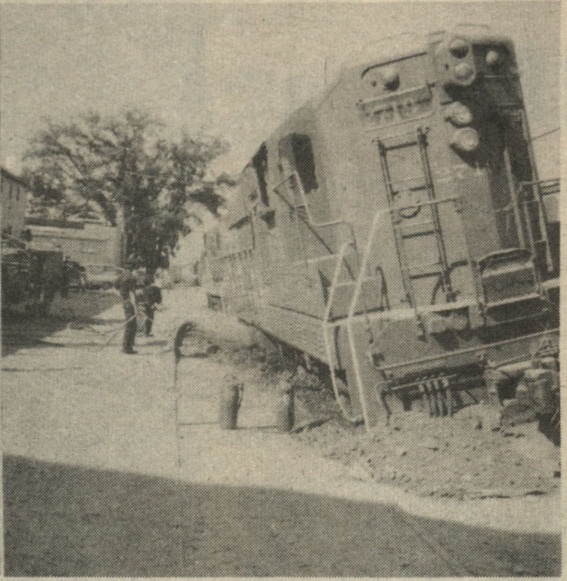
The project can also be submitted to the citizens as a general obligation bond issue.

The Council so far has indicated it is divided over how the project should be financed; when it should be started and whether one loop should be built first or the entire project completed at one time.

Councilmen have expressed the hope that they will receive valuable input from the citizens at next Tuesday's meeting, which will assist them in deciding which way to go.

In addition to the financing, other factors involved in the overall loop system include the library construction, the relocation of the fire station, the opening of "The Factory," new railroad crossings, and a possible Highway 17-Campbell Avenue interchange.





ON FRIDAY AFTERNOON

SP train derails here

Homebound motorists were detoured around the scene of a derailment last Friday at the peak traffic hour when a Southern Pacific engine and three cars jumped the tracks just south of Campbell Avenue crossing.

Traffic was tied up over an hour, beginning at 4:30 p.m. as the 29-car train was strung out along the line blocking Campbell Avenue.

A malfunctioning switch was the apparent cause of the mishap, which tore up some 225 feet of track before the engine came to rest (left). No injuries were reported.

A total of 1,200 gallons of diesel fuel was spilled along the scene when one of the engine's dual fuel tanks burst upon impact.

According to Captain Chuck Scanlon of the Campbell Fire Department, a small fire flared near one of the boxcars when some of the diesel fuel ignited. It was quickly extinguished by the train crew, he said.

Saturday a huge crane was brought to the scene (below) and the cars and engine placed back on the track.

Planners to meet next Monday

Plans for five industrial buildings, a 53-unit cluster home development and a 50-unit motel are listed on the agenda for the Planning Commission meeting next Monday, August 6, in the council chambers at the city hall.

George Van Sickle, of Vanderson Co., is seeking approval of plans for three of the industrial buildings, all located on Vandell Way; C. J. Toy has submitted plans for an industrial building at 1150 Dell Ave. and Creative Industries is seeking approval for a similar structure at 101 Gilman.

S.H.A.R.E. is asking approval of a 53-unit apartment complex at Darryl and San Tomas Expressway and Surber-Greenley has submitted plans for a 50-unit motel at 1210 Camden Ave.

William Glover has applied for a use permit for a gymnastics school at 1320 Dell Ave. and Dr. John Hughes is asking that the zone be changed from R-1 to C-1-S on parcels at 44, 45 and 58 Rosemary.

On the agenda also is the request of Fred Chez for an extension on his development

Campbell takes district title

by Doug Brooner

Campbell Little League did it the hard way, catch up, as they edged Santa Clara Eastside 2-1 in eight innings on Monday to win the District 44 championship for the second year in a row.

The All-Stars start play for the sectional title on Thursday at Palo Alto.

Curt Aure of Campbell and Mark Langston of Eastside locked in a real pitching duel with Curt striking out 16 batters while Mark had 13.

Eastside scored first in the second inning as they loaded the bases on starting pitcher Rey Ybarra with none out. Curt replaced Ybarra and retired the first two batters, then John Gonsalves hit a bouncer to second base, hit the lip of the infield and hopped over the head of Kirk Nolte for a base hit scoring Roy Sanfillifo.

The score stayed 1-0 until the bottom of the sixth, with one out Curt Aure singled.

Jeff Rymer hit one to shortstop who bobbled and two were on.

Dan Rozewicz laid down a bunt but forced Aure at third for the second out.

On a no ball, one strike count, first baseman Billy Tsamis cracked a single to left field scoring Rymer but Rozewicz was out at third on a questionable call.

In the bottom of the eighth Mark Izatt grounded a ball to the third baseman who threw widely at first for an error.

A passed ball by the catcher put Mark on second. Then Bob Cirivilleri rolled a ball down the third base line, the catcher got the ball and threw too late at third on the sliding Izatt.

Next batter was Curt Aure who with a 1-2 count swung for a third strike but the ball got by the catcher and Izatt raced home for the District 44 title.

Curt Aure was superb in pitching as he gave up two hits and walked none in seven innings of work.

Judge decides against college parking lot plan

West Valley College may not construct parking lot number 3, located adjacent to residents of the Short Hill Court area of Saratoga.

That was the decision rendered Friday morning, July 27 by Superior Court Judge Edward Brady, visiting judge from San Benito County, who heard the matter.

The hearing was held at the request of Walter Muir, a Short Hill Court resident, who petitioned the court to prevent construction of parking lot number 3. The proposed parking lot is included within the assessment district proposed by the City of Saratoga pursuant to an agreement with West Valley Joint Community College District.

Judge Brady ordered that no physical work be undertaken to construct the parking lot in the proposed location after agreement by counsel for Muir, West Valley College and the city of Saratoga.

However, Judge Brady specifically allowed West Valley College to proceed with grading and leveling in the area of the proposed parking lot. Such grading and leveling is within the scope of existing grading contracts.

The order did not prevent further actions toward formation of the assessment district. Currently West Valley College and the city of Saratoga are not in agreement on certain details of the proposed parking lot. Until these details are resolved the assessment district cannot proceed.

FLASH--

Campbell Moose Lodge won their Tournament of Champions semi-finals 7-3 Sunday night to advance to the finals. Big stick was Jeff Rymer who batted in five runs. Little Mike Marti was on the mound for the Moose and did a magnificent job.

LONG WAY FROM HOME

Last week police recovered parts of a motorcycle reported stolen from Miamisburg, Ohio...in the local percolation pond.

GRAND THEFT

The report of payroll checks stolen from the Goodwill Industries store, 60 S. San Tomas Aquino Rd., had a happy ending last Thursday after they were found by a small Campbell lad.

Found in a carport on Burnham Ct. was the green money bag and the checks. No cash was taken in the theft.

Orientation set by West Valley College

An orientation workshop for new or returning students at West Valley College will be held August 20 and 21.

The workshop is designed for those students who want to learn more about the college. It covers, in brief, all the services and mechanics of college operation necessary for the student to know in order to gain the most from his college experience.

Those interested in attending this two day workshop, which runs 5:30 - 8 p.m., should register for it in the college's Community Services Office, 44 E. Latimer Ave., Campbell, room L-26. There is no registration fee.

Further information may be obtained by calling that office at 867-2200, ext. 58.

Kid's eye view of a hold-up

"It wasn't at all like you see in those Western movies," said one young girl about the daylight armed robbery of the 7-11 store, 262 W Sunnyoaks Ave., last Friday afternoon.

During the stick-up the store was bustling with local small fry buying their soft drinks, candy and gum. According to reports, two men robbed the store of some $150 in cash.

" Several of the small witnesses to the robbery, who shall remain anonymous, had some interesting observations to report.

The Western movie fan reported that the incident wasn't at all the way she expected. (No "OK Corral" stand-off at the Campbell store.) "The man just walked over and took the money just like it was his.... that's all. He took it right out of the thing (cash drawer). Nobody did anything."

(One of the suspects forced the young woman clerk to hand over the cash, according to reports.)

"I wanted to buy a coke," said a young man of eight, "so I went up to the counter. I hit my quarter against the counter so someone would come over and help me but nobody did. Then I looked at the man at the counter. He had a pistol. There was a boy behind him. (The second suspect was described as in his 20's.) He had a switchblade knife. I didn't get any help but the man helped himself to the money."

"My girlfriend and I were in the candy thing (section), said one young lady of seven, "we knew what was happening but we decided not to pay it any attention. (Asked if her lack of "attention" was due to fear or to a lack of interest, she replied, "My friend was scared but I wasn't....too much.")

Vandalism rates soar during summer months

by Pat Safford

In police circles juvenile vandalism has another name, "malicious mischief"; but by any name the crime is a costly one to local residents.

With summer here the number of reported cases of vandalism has risen sharply. Schools, always a major target, have been hard hit in recent weeks.

Damage to schools range from the theft of a phonograph and paddle boards valued at $35 last week at Dover School to the extensive damage caused by juveniles at the Seventh Day Adventist Church school on Dot Avenue in June.

Damages to the school totaled over $1,000 in four incidents between June 9-18. Rocks were thrown through windows, bathroom fixtures destroyed, books and desks disfigured and obscenities written on the school walls with spray paint.

Each week police reports reflect the problem of vandalism with cases of rocks thrown through front windows and windows of autos and trucks broken; to name the most frequent.

Local businesses have also been hard hit. One example in recent months is that of a local carpet company which suffered thousands of dollars worth of damage when vandals managed to run a hose into the showroom and turn on the water. Since the incident happened over the weekend when the business was closed, by the time it was discovered several inches of water covered the showroom floor damaging the rolls of carpeting.

Not all incidents of vandalism are caused by juveniles but Sergant Frank Furtaw, Campbell Police Department juvenile officer, estimates that some 85 per cent of the reported cases are caused by youths 18 and under.

Youngest child apprehended for malicious mischief was a six-year-old youngster caught with two companions at a Campbell school recently. Oldest member of this trio, which damaged one of the classrooms, was nine years old.

Furtaw feels that most juvenile offenders he sees come from broken homes or from homes where both parents work.

Major cause of vandalism is boredom, according to Furtaw.

While cases have been reported where spite or anger was the obvious motive, most appear to be spur-of-the-moment incidents, and most are committed by more than one juvenile.

Most acts of vandalism are committed during the hours of 6 p.m. and 6 a.m., according to Furtaw. For cases reported in July, nine were committed during the day and 38 after 6 p.m.

Fully 90 per cent of reported incidents (and Furtaw estimates police only receive word of a third of the actual cases) the suspects are unknown.

Where apprehensions are made, it is usually due to a call by a neighbor or passerby which alerts police and sends a squad car to investigate.

The local law enforcement officer has two suggestions for residents to avoid vandalism. One is fairly simple to follow, the other more difficult.

"Don't leave your car out at night," Furtaw advises. All of the reported cases of damage to autos come from homes where the family car or cars are parked in front of the house.

"Second, don't live in apartments," Furtaw said with a grin. Most cases of residential vandalism occur in apartments and multiple dwellings.

Parents of juveniles who commit acts of vandalism are legally responsible to pay for the damages up to $500, Furtaw said. If damages amount to a much larger sum the injured party might press a civil suit to recover his loss.

With no summer recreation program in the Campbell Union (elementary) School District this summer, children should NOT be on school grounds. (This does not apply to the new Mini Parks created on several local school grounds).

Residents spotting children loitering around school grounds are urged to contact the police.

If the youngsters aren't causing a problem, Furtaw said, the officer will just advise them that they aren't allowed on the grounds. For those with destruction in mind, a call to local police can save damages such as that which occured at Rosemary School during the July 4th weekend.

In that incident fireworks were stacked beside three buildings and ignited. In two of the cases the fire burned itself out without causing further damage. In the third case the fireworks ignited a wall of the building.

Moreland trustees adopt final budget

Moreland school trustees will hold a public hearing on the 1973-74 final school budget at this evening's meeting at 7:30 p.m. in the district office, 4710 Campbell Ave., San Jose.

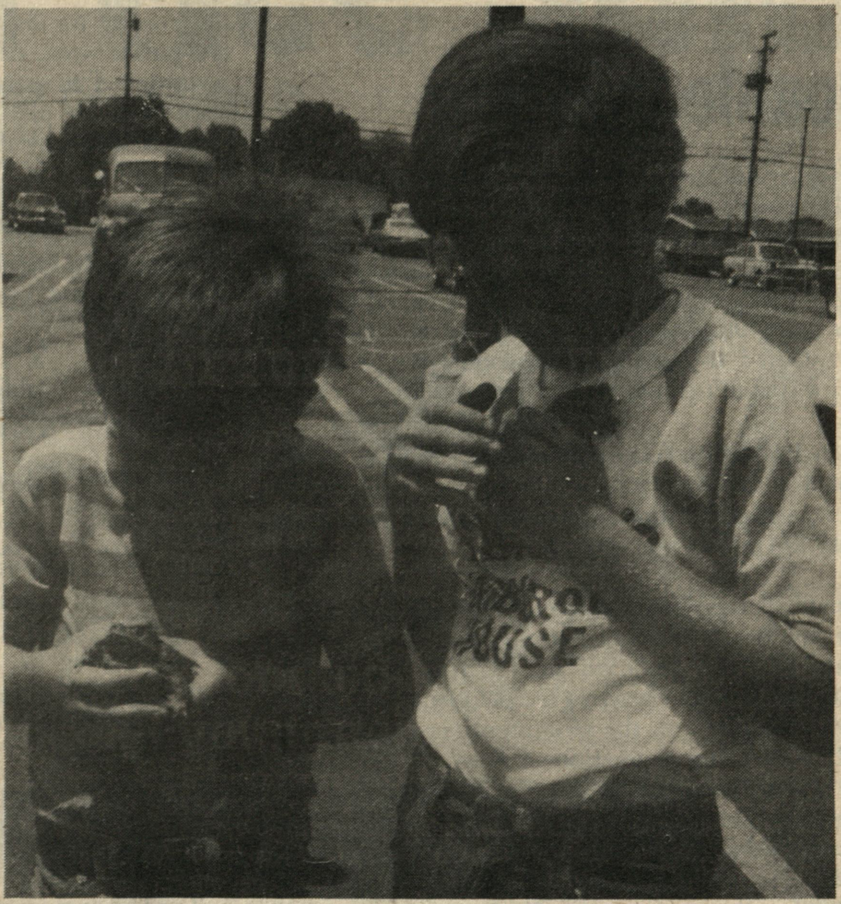
Final adoption of the budget is expected at the meeting which will also include:

Discussion of an agreement with the Los Gatos-Saratoga District Recreation Department for a community recreation program at Brookview and El Quito Park Schools.

Review and awarding of bids for purchase of one or two new school buses.

Authorization of a bid for fencing Baker, Bucknall and Country Lane Schools.

Some frogs would rather walk



When the second annual San Tomas Frog Jumping Contest got underway last Sunday at the San Tomas Plaza Shopping Center the small, but spirited, group of youngsters did most of the jumping. Above, right, brothers Mickey and Matt Froess get their entries ready.

While a few entries came through with a jump...here and there...mostly there...many of the local contestants insisted on an ambling amphibian walk.

With the strict new rules laid down this year...no local bunny rabbits tried to crash the party this year but a few of the "frogs" on hand looked suspiciously like their name should begin with a "T"...for toad.

Bill Bennett, local business owner, initiated the contest which this year saw a new entry blank which called for such data as the frog's height, weight, genus, and "marital status."

The youthful entrants didn't seem to have any trouble with the latter question from all indications. A boy and girl arrived with their entries and when asked, the boy declared his frog was single, while his older sister insisted her's was married...(to someone else, no doubt).

Winners will be announced this week.

OUT ON THE LIMB

with George Vierhus

MORE AND MORE WE HAVE BECOME CONVINCED that there should not be any parking on Bascom Ave. or on Winchester Blvd. in the main business districts.

We think that cars in the parking lanes on those two horribly busy streets aggravate the traffic dangers that already exist and which are bad enough under normal conditions.

Maybe we are overly sensitive to the situation because we use both streets regularly.

But we maintain that it is dangerous to nose out into the moving traffic lanes from a side street when it is impossible to see the traffic until it is almost on top of you.

When cars are parked on either Bascom or Winchester near one of the side streets, it is virtually impossible to see what traffic is coming because the parked cars block the view.

It is like playing Russian roulette.

WE HAVE MENTIONED THIS DANGER BEFORE AND have been accused of being overly-cautious and sort of an "old lady" in our viewpoint.

We have a reason for bringing the subject up again.

One of the persons who had claimed we had been exaggerating the situation called us this past week and reported that he had changed his mind on the subject.

The party sounded a wee bit shaken.

He had just had a narrow escape while edging his way into the onrushing traffic on Winchester, he told us.

He now agreed with us.

He claimed the swerving and brake-squealing that had taken place had added ten years to his age.

We would appreciate it if some of you other guys and gals who agree with us that parking should be eliminated on Bascom and Winchester in the business section, would join our club.

Membership is open to all.

Or better yet, let the city officials know.

PHASING OUT--WE SUPPOSE THAT IS WHAT IS GOING on as far as the "temporary" Campbell campus of West Valley College is concerned, although there has been no official declaration of that intent.

One of the latest sign-posts on the long phasing-out trail was the following item on the agenda, of the July 19 meeting of the governing board of the college listed under "Report of Superintendent": "... 1) Change of Governing Board Meetings to Saratoga Campus."

So...another era comes to an end.

WE ALL KNEW, OF COURSE, THAT IT WOULD BE only a matter of time before the college administration and the governing board moved out from the Campbell campus to Saratoga.

But we Campbell people had grown somewhat attached to the fact that the headquarters of the college was in our town.

There were those, of course, of a more cynical nature who wondered why the administration and the college board stuck around the temporary Campbell campus as long as they had.

After all, there is quite a contrast between the lush country club atmosphere of the Saratoga college site and the rundown, over-the-hill and, of course, temporary, Campbell campus.

Still it was with a touch of nostalgia that we noted the agenda item--"change of governing board meetings to Saratoga campus."

After all an entire decade has passed since the first college board meeting was held in the temporary Campbell campus.

So it was an historic event.

In a negative sort of way.

RECENTLY WE DUG INTO THE FILES OF THE PRESS for the year 1968.

We were doing some research as to when the loop system for the downtown area was first officially presented.

Our digging revealed that the loop system was presented early in the year by representatives of Management Economics Research, Inc. (MERI), a firm that had been employed (with federal funding) to do an advanced planning program of the City of Campbell.

Funds came from the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development under the provisions of Section 701 of the Housing Act and thus it had been labeled the "701 program."

Our research indicated that the loop system sort of dominated the entire year. It was presented by MERI in February and after many public hearings, informal discussions, etc., the concept and plan lines were approved by the Planning Commission and City Council in the fall of that year.

Because of the year-long activity on the loop idea, we guess it would be permissible, if we described 1968 locally not as "leap year" but rather "loop year."

We probably could have gone all day without being that corney.

Wouldn't you agree?

FIVE YEARS IS NOT A LONG TIME, IF ONE COMpares that period with a century.

Still it is quite a spell.

Many changes can take place in such a span.

As a case in point, we noted in our research of 1968, that there has been more than a complete turnover in Planning Commission membership in the five year period.

None of the planning commissioners who were in office in 1968 when the loop system was first examined are on the commission today.

Chairman then was Frank Klein. Other members were the late Kel Young, Merrill Grim, Jack Healey, Dale Scott, Thayer Lyons and Ed Pack.

And only two of the councilmen who were in office in 1968 are still on the council today...Dean Chamberlin and Ralph Doetsch.

Mayor in 1968 was Bill Smeed with Homer Hyde and Ed Rogers completing the roster.

We concede that because of this turnover, on the part of city officials, some problems in continuity could develop, as far as major city projects are concerned.

It is conceivable also that city officials today may look at things differently than their predecessors did five years previously.

That seems logical.

But caution must be used when previous city council actions are reversed.

Otherwise city legislation would be like a yo-yo.

APPARENTLY THERE ARE SOME PROS WHO FROWN on a secretary asking, "May I say who is calling please?" before routing a phone call to the proper party.

We have always felt that such a response made for a more efficient operation.

However, we learned recently that one school of thought maintains that in their opinion, what is his name is an improper and discourteous response.

These people argue that ordinarily a person should not be that inaccessible. Or should it be necessary to forewarn anyone as to whom is on the line.

We don't agree with that thinking.

Maybe it is because we have been exposed to newspapering for too long a time.

But we like to know who is calling us.

Many of our callers over the years have not been the friendly type.

We think it helps a little to have some warning in those cases.

One can count to 10 easier, if you know what to expect.

-0-

SPEAKING OF RESPONSES BY SECRETARIES--THE other day we were chit-chatting with the secretary to a local executive.

(She didn't ask who was calling. She knew our voice.)

Anyway her boss was out. But was expected back momentarily.

The way the gal put it was, "He's not quite back yet."

Is that like being a little bit pregnant?

A NEWS ITEM IN THE MAIL FROM THE SANTA CLARA County Transit District this week reported that the bus service between Milpitas and the BART terminus at Fremont was to be discontinued.

The timing on that service was unfortunate.

It was inaugurated the same day that BART employees struck.

Double taxation

The City of Campbell may not be able to latch onto any state legislation that will give this city any help in getting relief from a double taxation that the citizens are paying for county communication services.

However, we commend the City Council for officially going on record and protesting the "free ride" that some of the cities in the county are getting for police dispatching and other communication services.

State legislation (Government Code Section 25643) adopted in 1972 permits a city to file a resolution to have its assessed valuation exempted from supporting county fire protection services.

Campbell has joined the cities of San Jose, Santa Clara and Sunnyvale, under this code section, seeking exemption from taxation in 1973-74 because the county fire marshal services are paid from the general countywide tax, and the aforementioned cities maintain their own fire protection services.

Thus it is double taxation.

The City Council of Campbell then used the same legislative vehicle to ask for exemption from taxation for the county communication service. Apparently the code section only applies to fire protection service.

But with or without the necessary state legislation, the same principle applies in the communication services issue as in the fire protection situation.

After approximately 20 years of contracting with the county for dispatching services for the police, fire and public works departments, this city found it more economical to establish its own communication system than to pay the constantly increasing special charges levied by the county for the communication system.

Campbell's system has been working efficiently and economically for almost a year and the citizens are actually getting even better dispatching service than ever before.

Campbell established its own system when the county contract went to about $90,000 per year.

The town of Los Gatos had also been contracting for the same service and paying similar charges, (about $50,000). In fact, Los Gatos had explored the possibility of hooking onto Campbell's network and leaving the county's system.

Last spring the supervisors announced that the county was planning to give free dispatching service to all cities, although details on this ambitious program were a bit hazy.

But Los Gatos has now profited at the expense of Campbell and all the other cities that have their own

Los Gatos is paying NOTHING for the same service it was charged $50,000 the previous year. Apparently general tax money is being used by the county for this free ride.

We think it is grossly unfair. The people of Campbell, in a sense, are helping to finance police dispatching in Los Gatos.

Bringing up fido

By Sally Howe

There's nothing Fido likes more than to be invited to go with his family to visit--whether for a day or for a weekend.

Fido is lucky because he is such a well-behaved dog (having graduated second in his obedience class) that he is welcome anywhere.

His family always makes sure that he's clean and brushed when he goes anywhere, because if he's allowed in his host's house, he certainly doesn't want to make muddy footprints or leave dog hair around.

Where he's not allowed in, he has special sleeping and exercising equipment, which consists of a collapsible exercise pen, a long leash and his own crate (also collapsible). The pen is made in six sections, which may be sandwiched up to different shapes and when not in use can be left in the trunk of Fido's owner's car.

Fido is a good traveler and prefers to ride on the floor of the back seat. He has a cousin who was a pest in the car, jumping from window to window and barking at everything.

His folks purchased a "no-bark" leather muzzle (adjustable by a series of straps) and put his collar and leash on him. They took him on a series of short excursions with an adult member of the family riding in the back seat with him. The first time he barked. the leash was jerked and he was scolded verbally. The second time he barked, the muzzle was put on.

Naturally he didn't think much of it. But it did succeed in quieting him down. On another excursion, they tried just the leash and on a third, just the muzzle. Eventually, he caught on and now he's as well behaved as Fido.

One of Fido's neighbors used a different technique. He started his puppy out at age three months going for car rides and since he had a station wagon, he put him in the very back and made him stay there. This worked just fine, until the puppy learned to climb over the seat. At that point, the owner purchased a barrier for the car and now the dog (a full grown Shepherd) only enters and leaves the car through the tailgate and is content to ride in the rear.

A word of caution: car exhaust fumes can be drawn up through an open window in the tailgate and can make a dog (or children riding in the rear) pretty sick. If you go on the freeway, then close that back window.

When traveling, make sure that Fido wears his collar with his identification tags on it. Although he may be a perfect gentleman about not trying to jump out of the car, there is always the possibility (unfortunately) of an automobile accident.

Dogs are usually forgotten or frightened in an emergency situation and run away from the scene of the excitement.

Now kids can look it up in their own Funk & Wagnalls.

After 60 years of making encyclopedias for adults, Funk & Wagnalls has learned enough to make one for children.

It's called the Young Students Encyclopedia. And it's designed to do something more than just get them through the next homework assignment—to make them want to learn on their own.

Instead of burdening your children with tons of forgettable detail, it appeals to their native curiosity. The article on Airplanes, for example, illustrates an experiment children can perform at home showing how things fly. There are hundreds of other drawings, games and puzzles that not only teach but provoke, involve and entertain in the process.

In other words, it's an encyclopedia children will actually use. They'll also use it a long time. It's designed to be simple enough for children just learning to read and comprehensive enough to serve until they're ready for an adult encyclopedia. They can't outgrow it the way they do shoes.

Which brings up another nice point about the Young Students Encyclopedia: it's intended exclusively to help children, but it helps grown-ups too.

First, it doesn't put much of a dent in your budget. Since it's sold direct to you through us, you can buy the complete 20-volume set a volume or two a week for only $1.69 each. And the first volume for the introductory price of a quarter.

Now available in all Safeway Stores in the following counties: Humboldt, Mendocino, Del Norte, Lake, *Solano, Napa, Sonoma, Marin, Contra Costa, Alameda, San Francisco, San Mateo, Santa Clara, Monterey and Santa Cruz.

*Not available in Vacaville & Fairfield.

Deadline approaches for competitive fair exhibits

The week of August 6-10 is final deadline time for competitive exhibits in the 29th annual Santa Clara County Fair, August 17-26, according to William A. Straub, the Fair's manager.

Home economics entries must be delivered to the Fairgrounds' Pavilion by Wednesday, August 8. Clothing and textiles, weaving, knitting, rugs, stitchery, special handicraft and potpourri, lapidary, canning, confections and baking are the competition divisions. Baked goods must be brought in the day of judging.

Premium books which contain rules, regulations and entry forms are available at the Fairgrounds, 344 Tully Road, San Jose, or by phoning 395-3050.

GLASS IN ROME

The Romans used glass for pavements and, in thin plates, for coating walls.

TO HELP YOU FEEL ACQUAINTED

- We believe that Jesus Christ is the Son of God.
- That righteousness is simply "rightness".
- That there is no one that is righteous.
- That through faith in Christ's death for us, God forgives our past sins.
- That through this forgiveness we can have fellowship with God, person to Person.

New center

"Koinonia" means fellowship

Hammers, paint brushes and brooms are being wielded as the "Koinonia Center" at 2541 Bascom Ave. takes shape.

"Koinonia" is a Greek word which means sharing and fellowship.

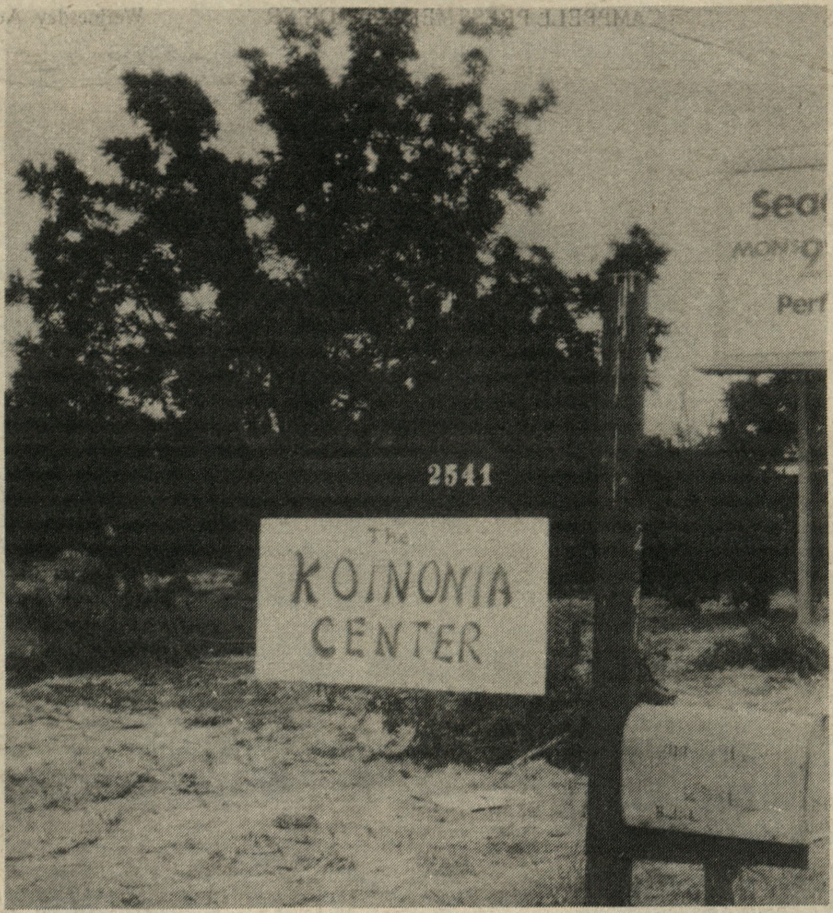
The center is the outgrowth of a local group founded over two and a half years ago in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Wallace, 2550 Leigh Avenue.

"We're Jesus people," explained Wallace. "Good things have happened to people in our growing group," he continued, "they have gotten away from the drug scene, are out of trouble and they are able to do their own thing better."

Wallace, a teacher of special education at Camden High School, is enthusiastic about the group and their plans at the new center. Eventually, they plan to operate a drop-in center to be open 12 to 15 hours a day, six days a week. The center is closed on Sundays, "so people can go to their churches, or not, as they wish. We are not a church," Wallace explained.

At present the rapidly changing building is open Monday through Saturday, beginning at 7:30 p.m. The "Cornerstone Coffee House," also operates six evenings a week at the Bascom Avenue center.

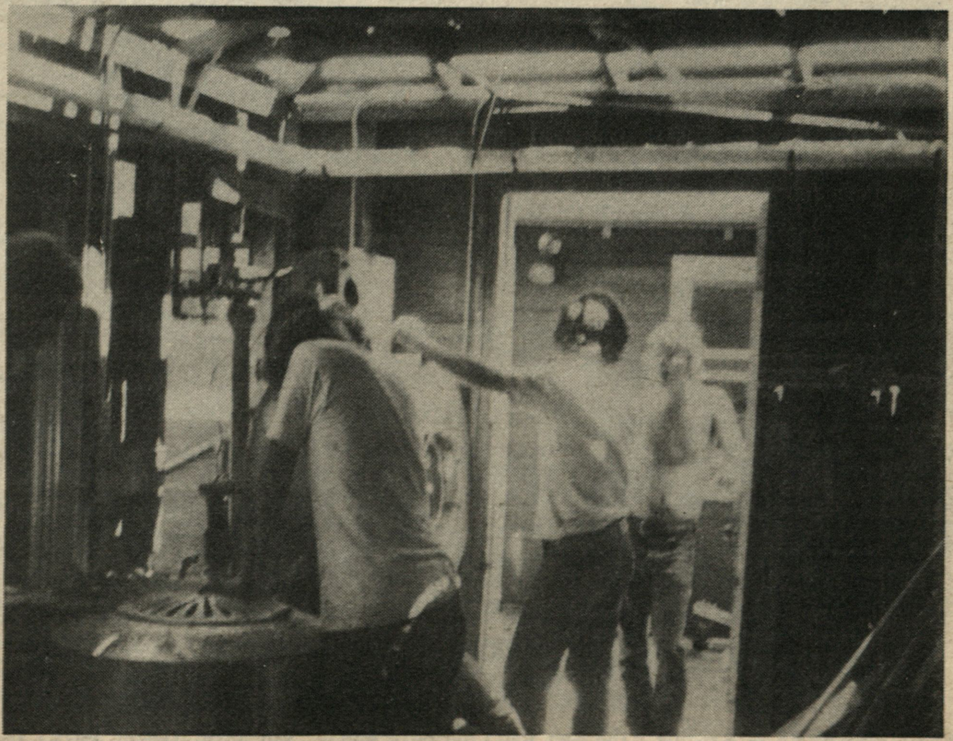
Studies, sings and recreational programs are held during the week with Saturday reserved for a gathering of high school and college age young people at the coffee house. A new program, for junior high school-age youngsters, gets underway this Friday evening at 7:30 p.m.



HAND-PAINTED SIGN SITS IN FRONT OF THE NEW CENTER

SIGN PAINTERS--One of the first projects at the new Koinonia Center on Bascom Avenue was getting the sign painted for out front.

RENOVATION--Members of a Campbell group were busy recently putting up screens and cleaning walls.



YOUNG BUILDERS--A building at the rear of the property at 2541 Bascom Ave. will take some real work transforming it from the laundry room into a ladies lounge.

Callsheet

with C. Michael

What is true community theater? I visited three shows this week--all claim to be a type of community theater.

First of all there was "Paint Your Wagon" at Campbell High School. The musical production was the culmination of learning after six weeks of workshop rehearsal. The acoustics in the Campbell High auditorium are not the best. In fact, they are very bad. Only in the singing were the words understandable. Therefore the audience was at a disadvantage as to the story line.

However, there were many plus values. The orchestra was of the highest quality and never overpowered the singers. Secondly, there were many men in the show. Both of the leads tried very hard and had lots of energy. It's nice to see young talent developing in the high school. The technical end of the show was also very smoothly handled. The show was exactly as it was advertised.

ANYTHING GOES

On Friday night, I journeyed to Soquel and Cabrillo College to see the musical of the 30's "Anything Goes." It was a good example of the area pooling their talents together to put on a show. The cast obviously had grown to love each other and this one element was the highlight of the evening.

Cabrillo does one summer musical per year and it is nice to see it put back in the hands of the community.

In the past two years, the show was designed for Cabrillo students rather than for the community.

Where else but in the theater could you find a ten-year-old working side by side a grandmother and all working to achieve one final end?

Local favorite actress Gloria Stockton was at the helm as Reno Sweeny and sang those Cole Porter songs with much gusto. Gloria exudes love and her audience in return loves her. She could do no wrong. It's well worth the trip to see the "Anything Goes" tap number at the end of the first act. It made me want to get up on the stage and join them.

I wish that more directors like Glen Dubose would excite the cast like he has done. He has made them all feel like New York stars that can do no wrong and therefore has made them feel proud of the show.

FOLLIES

Speaking of being proud of a show, one will find that all of the teens now involved in Music Theater's "Follies" are also very proud of their show.

The technical end of the show, with sets by Dwight McBride, lighting by Jan Musson, choreography by Marie Stinnett, costumes by Edna Tvedt, and orchestra under the leadership of Richard Nelson, was of the most professional nature.

The kids in the show all work very hard and their efforts are not in vain as there are some very exciting moments in the show.

Judy Scott in her first lead performance on the local boards is someone to watch. She is in her twenties, but has a quality that few people have in that she can play any age. She sings well and also is a fine actress. I saw Dorothy Collins do the original role and Miss Scott is on an equal par.

But I question her being in a "teenage" production. This was not a teenage production with five of the major roles played by "guest" artists. Why do a teenage show if you are going to bring in the people for the lead roles? This is their only chance during the year to do the major roles. Why cheat them?

I also question this choice as a "teenage" vehicle. According to the program, this was the Northern California Premiere of a recent Broadway musical and the Music Theater felt a responsibility to the community to present shows not already established as "oldies and goodies." New shows do not always mean good theater and theater that can be handled by teens.

These particular leads had no insight to the characters that they were playing.

Would a director select "Virginia Wolf" or "Marat-Sade" as the senior play? How about it readers? Maybe next year it will be "Oh Calcutta"?

I love the vehicle and this production was a well-mounted one, but I strongly question the time and the place. Would not this show have been a super smash if it would have been done during the winter season when the characters could have been enacted to perfection to match the technical end of this particular production?

Funny Girl opens tonight

Tonight 150 students throughout the area take part in the opening performance of "Funny Girl," which begins its four-run performance in the Willow Glen Cafeteria in San Jose. Curtain time is 8 p.m.

The musical will feature Michele Freiberg in the title role. Others in the cast are Kenn Weeks as Nick Arstein, Claudia Louis as Mrs. Brice, and Paul Breithaupt as Eddie Ryan.

Food coupons aid retarded youngsters

Food coupons, clipped from a magazine or newspaper or received through the mail, can bring joy to children residing at the Porterville facility for mentally retarded children.

The coupon drive is being sponsored locally by the Business and Professional Women, according to chairman Gladys Stander.

The organization has an agreement with the food companies which provides for reimbursement for all coupons received, she said. Proceeds go towards purchasing toys and other supplies for the retarded youngsters.

Readers can send their coupons to Mrs. Stander at 2260 Starbright Dr., San Jose 95124.

ROTARY CLUB

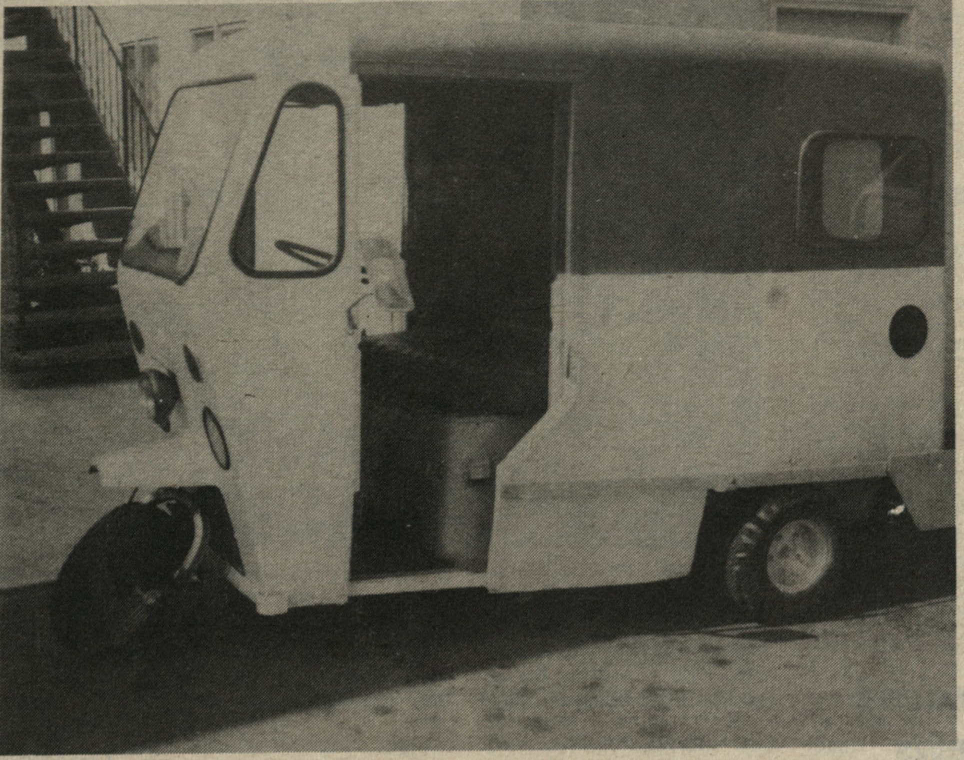
"Old Smoothie"



The jaunty jalopy pictured above, actually a converted mail scooter, can be seen these evenings at the Rincon Ball Park.

Refurbished by Chuck Cannady, the vehicle, renamed "Old Smoothie," lives up to its name by smoothing the dirt on the playing field before Pony League play begins.

According to Cannady, there are no plans at present to use the new vehicle for transporting pitchers from the "bull pen."

Since it is licensed for street use, Cannady says the Pony League will loan out the vehicle for other local ball teams to use on their fields if needed.

Pony League

by Chuck Cannady

Campbell - Moreland Pony League will be hosting the Northwest Regional Tournament for 1973 at their facilities in Rincon Park.

Teams from four sections of the northern pacific coast will be taking part in this double-elimination tourney along with Campbell-Moreland.

The areas represented will be Washington-Oregon, Utah-Montana-Idaho, extreme northern California, and central California. These last two sections' tourneys are currently being played in El Cerrito and Santa Clara.

OPENING PITCH

The opening pitch will be thrown on Friday, August 3, at 2 p.m. when Wash.-Ore. will face the El Cerrito winner.

Campbell-Moreland will be challenged by the Utah-Mont.-Idaho entrant at 5:30 p.m.

The Santa Clara section winner will play the winner of Friday's first game on Sat. The tournament is scheduled for completion on Tuesday, with a game on Wednesday, if necessary.

PLAYOFFS

The champion of this regional tournament will go on to the Western Divisional playoffs in National City, California. The winner of that tourney (which is set for August 10-15 in the San Diego area) will trek to Washington, Pennsylvania for the Pony League World Series.

The Campbell-Moreland All-Star team is managed by Bud Stallings; whose regular season record for the past three years is 63-19; and coached by Ray Knight.

HURLERS

The team's pitching start is headed by the lefty-righty combination of Todd Osburg and Jerry Gutierrez, both of whom posted 11-1 records during the regular season. Osburg's loss was doubly tough in that he pitched a no-hitter while his opponent Joe Mausser duplicated that feat to win 1-0. Osburg came up with a 0.99 ERA and yielded just 17 hits in 63 innings.

Gutierrez sported an ERA of 0.98 and struck out 165 in only 78 innings for an average of nearly 15 K's per game. He tossed two games this season in which he struck out 18.

Mausser, who missed virtually the entire first half playing high school ball, came back and won five while losing one. His ERA was a creditable 1.81 which is generally credited to his outstanding control.

Rounding out the staff is Bud Schneider, whose 5-4 record is deceptive in that his losses came early in the season due to erratic control. As the season progressed, his control vastly improved to go along with his fine 2.02 ERA. During the league playoffs and Valley Tournament of Champions, Schneider chalked up three wins without a loss and never allowed more than three hits in any of the games.

BATSMEN

The team is led at the plate by Mike Turnwall, whose .427 batting average and 33 RBI topped the league. Turnwall tied the Rincon Park record by belting five home runs this season.

In addition to his pitching, Todd Osburg led the league in hits with 37 and batted .420 with two homers, along with 19 RBI.

Another batting star is Mike Riley, who batted a consistent .395 all season and drove in 17 runs. Riley also led the league's catchers in assists with 23 runners thrown out.

The team speed merchant is Al Koontz, who despite missing five games garnered 30 hits and hit .395 with five doubles and five triples. Koontz ran up 24 stolen bases during the league season.

Left-hand line-drive artist Mark Raust rang up a gaudy .388 average which dipped under four hundred during the last week of the season.

Joe Mausser smacked out a .377 average with a pair of home runs to go along with his fine pitching.

Bud Schneider's great speed enabled him to rap out 31 hits for a .373 average and knock in 19 runs for his leadoff spot.

ON-BASE

Although known mostly for his pitching, Jerry Gutierrez hit .362 and stole 17 bases while possessing one of the high on-base percentages in the league.

A murderous right-hand pull hitter, Mark Ryan batted out 30 hits for a .357 average. An infielder-turned-catcher, Ryan performed excellently behind the bat with the second leading assist total for a catcher in the league.

Wes Mitchell hit .318 and proved to be the toughest to strike out in the league with a total of only eight for the season. Mitchell posted a 7-5 record during the season with excellent control.

Ed Beaton rapped out a league-leading 11 doubles and hit .303 to attain the distinction of being the lone 13-year-old on the team. He stole 16 out of 19 bases.

Doug Sears possessed one of the league's highest on-base percentages and stole 15 out of 17 bases. His pitching was also of high caliber, chalking up a 6-3 record with a 2.43 ERA. Sears batted a creditable .286 for the season.

CLUTCH

Mark Savone proved to be the league's premier clutch hitter with eight game-winning hits and 19 RBI in spite of his .247 average.

Yogi Echeverria's courage in playing most of the first half despite a long siege with pneumonia was, along with his overall utility ability, the factor which made his presence on the team necessary. He hit a pair of home runs to win games.

Dino Hernandez was the league's foremost utility man playing every position including pitching where he displayed a 2.40 ERA.

Campbell Legion team leads in first round

by Dottie Mitchell

In the final week of League play the newly revived Campbell American Legion team is in the catbird seat. The local team is 13-5, followed by San Jose Post No. 318 at 12-5, and Los Altos Post No. 558 at 12-6. This assures these three teams entrance into the first round tournament as entries of the San Francisco Peninsula American Legion League.

Campbell Post No. 158 boasts some local celebrities within the ranks. From Campbell High are George and Gordy Hahn, Tom Guardino, Peter Fair, (No. 1 pitcher at 7-1), Ted Bertron and Felix Mancinez.

Campbell alumni are Jeff Mason (now at West Valley) and Dave Judd (Cal. State University at San Jose).

Gary Haney (pitcher with 4 wins to 0 losses and 48 strikeouts) from Westmont, Jay Peryam from Del Mar, and Ron Honda, Blackford alumnus now at West Valley are the independent team members.

The balance of the boys are from Prospect: Jack Freeland, Billy Moore, Scott Simms, Tom Laspina, and Eric Bauer.

Two veteran youth baseball leaders graduating from the Campbell Colt League team are; the manager, Wayne Mitchell, a teacher in the Campbell Elementary School District and 15 years with boys' baseball, and the coach, Al Casino, an officer of the California Highway Patrol, who has been with the local Colts for a number of years.

The assistant coach is Tom Laspina, Sr.

The League is comprised of teams from San Francisco, Palo Alto, and Redwood City, together with the three top teams. Boys to the age of 18 are included.

This is the first American Legion team from the Campbell area in a number of years. It's been a surprise to the rest of the league that the neophyte team did so well in its first year.

Second tournament game "a thriller"

Campbell Little League's Major team, Moose Lodge, won their second Tournament of Champions game by beating Briarwood of Santa Clara's Fontanetti's 5-2 in a real thriller at the Campbell field.

Little Mike Marti of Moose pitched his heart out to hold the Briarwood Major champs to four hits while striking out nine.

Moose Lodge drew first blood in the top of the first on a Jeff Rymer double that scored Mark Pfirrman from first.

Briarwood retaliated in the bottom of the first by getting two of their four hits with Pat Naki's two-run homer the big blow.

Both chuckers then settled down, Naki of Briarwood giving nary a hit in the next four innings, protecting a 2-1 lead.

In the top of the sixth, with only two more outs to win the game, Joe Cucchiara of Moose hit a Naki fast ball for a single. Jeff Rymer forced Cucchiara at second for the second out. Pinchhitter Brian Canady hit the first pitch for a single to put two runners on.

With pressure mounting, Naki then walked Rene Morelan on a 3-1 pitch to load the bags. Second baseman stepped up and hit the first pitch for a screaming single scoring Rymer and Canady and in the throw-in from the outfield the ball was fired to third base but went into left field. Rene Morelan picked himself up from third with Chris Alcoccer running all the way and both scored.

Campbell team totes up another big win

The name of the game is hitting and once again the boys from Campbell L.L. put on a slugging show as they waltzed over Sunnyvale Serra 16-3 in National Tournament play at the windy Campbell park on Thursday.

For the second time in three games Campbell had an 8-run inning to put the game out of reach. Up to that point Serra had a 3-1 lead thanks to two doubles by J. Sturner in the first and second innings. Campbell's one run came on a leadoff high sky homer by Mark Izatt.

In the big 8-run second inning Billy Tsamis also led off with a four bagger to close the gap 3-2. A Tim Mooney single, an error and singles by Kirk Nolte and Mark Izatt brought in four more runs to make it a 6-3 Campbell lead.

Serra pitcher Chris Patterson, physically shaken over the turn of events, walked Curt Aure and Jeff Rymer to load the bags. Next batter was Jack Cameron who stroked the second pitch over the centerfield fence for a grand slam.

In the third inning, hits by Bob Cirivilleri and Jeff Rymer plus an error loaded them up for Jack Cameron again. Jack responded by smashing a double, scoring all runners.

Campbell pitcher Mike Sullivan who had a shaky first two innings put it all together and held Serra scoreless the rest of the way, striking out 12 in the process.

The partisan Campbell crowd went wild and Alcoccer drew a tremendous round of applause while being mobbed by his teammates. Briarwood threatened in their sixth inning with a hit and walk but Marti struck out the dangerous Naki and got Zimmerman to line out to first for the final out.

The mishap occurred near the intersection of Campbell and Harrison Avenues and tied up the local thoroughfare during the commute-hour. Campbell patrolmen detoured traffic around the wreck and local firemen were on the scene within minutes hosing down the area where more than 1,200 gallons of diesel fuel were spilled when one of the engine's gas tanks burst.
